

The Hovingham and Scackleton Newsletter

October 2016

Welcome to the Hovingham and Scackleton Newsletter

One of the pleasures of living in Ryedale is experiencing the transition of the seasons. It's the small changes that bring joy and herald autumn. Look around and there are golden fields beautifully contrasted against a backdrop of luscious green countryside and trees. On our roads we see a variety of agricultural vehicles of all vintages working around the clock to bring in the harvest. In the skies we see birds preparing to migrate. We experience cooler evenings and shorter days with glorious sunrises and sunsets and seasonal vegetables bring comforting, hearty food to our tables.

We really do live in a beautiful part of the country. Yes, Harvest is a time for celebration. We've services locally and at the Market on Saturday 1st October, Hovingham School present an exhibition of drawings and paintings with the theme of harvest for the enjoyment of our community and visitors to Hovingham.

Poppy Appeal looking for Volunteers

Once again Hovingham and surrounding villages will be raising money by selling poppies from the 29th October to the 12th November.

Last year we achieved a record amount of £1,733.43. Included in the total were the house to house collections which raised £733.55. The remainder was made up of donations, a church collection, static point collections, the market and special events.

We are always looking for new volunteers, so please contact me if you can help.

The Remembrance Service at the church is on Sunday 13th November.

Neighbourhood Watch Advice - Beware BURGLARS about

Please make sure ALL Doors and Windows are LOCKED even in the middle of the day

Between 09:45 and 11:00am on Friday 16th September a house in Park Street was burgled. The culprit obtained access through a ground floor rear window, and stole some jewellery. While this is the first recent burglary, the previous burglaries happened in a threesome over a period of a few weeks, so PLEASE BE CAREFUL.

If you have any information regarding this event, or see something suspicious, then report it immediately to the Police on the non-emergency number 101 however, if it is an EMERGENCY, then dial 999.

Thursday the 13th of October at 6.30pm for 7 pm in the Hunting hall at Hovingham Hall

Rob Thompson is giving an illustrated talk on the Italian Chapel on Orkney.

You will learn a lot about this wonderful building - an micro-cathedral in a Nissen hut - and how it came to be built during the Second World War. . on a brilliant U boat commander; British naval complacency; tragedy; Churchillian incisiveness; a triumph of the human spirit and co-operation; incredible, improvised craftsmanship - and a lasting legacy of peace & friendship.

Sale of produce and Harvest Supper to follow the Service

ALL WELCOME

On Friday 7th October Hovingham Chapel members would like to invite you to join us for our Harvest Festival. Rev Ben Nicholson from Helmsley will lead the service at 6.30pm and afterwards there will be a sale of produce and harvest supper.

Later in the month we will begin preparing to fill shoeboxes for the annual Appeal when they will be given to the charity Samaritan's Purse – details for helping can be obtained from any Chapel member or ring Sue Goodwill 628077.

In November we will join the Church members for the annual Remembrance Service at the Parish Church. There is still a purpose for our religious buildings to be open daily so visitors to our beautiful part of Ryedale can find a 'peaceful oasis'.

Hovingham Village Market News - October is a 'Harvest' special

In conjunction with Hovingham School, our Saturday 1st October Market will have a children's drawing and painting competition depicting harvest. Come along and enjoy the display. Entries will be judged and prizes awarded. We'll also have some interesting and unusual facts and stories about harvest for you to enjoy and perhaps much better weather than we experienced for our September Market.

Yes, the heavens opened around 11.30am at our September Market. Regulars were prepared and headed to the Market earlier than usual to miss the forecasted rain. Approximately 550 visitors attended and many enjoyed the comfort, cakes and refreshments served by the Community Café and run by the Playground Group.

New stallholders Oscar Pet Foods and White Beach Designs did well and both said that they "loved the market". With persistent rain pouring and with no sign of the weather changing, we took the decision to close the Market slightly earlier than usual.

Interestingly, against all the odds, the majority of stallholders reported very positive sales with some customers buying early Christmas gifts.

A big thank you to all our Market visitors, stall holders and particularly our volunteers who took down the Market with good humour, wrestling with soggy stall covers.

If you'd like to be added to our free monthly mailing, contact themarket@hovingham.org.uk or follow us on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/TheHovinghamVillageMarket/>

Residents are reminded that they are helping deter Cold Callers by clearly telling them that you are not interested, they should go, as you close the door. You are also helping your neighbours; who may have more difficulty in turning them away. If you believe a Cold Caller is suspicious then please note down as many details as possible, such as their vehicle registration and description, and immediately contact the Police using the 101 non-emergency number.

Hovingham residents have received a number of visits from "Fisherman" selling fish; Trading Standards advise you NOT TO BUY from these salesman. The fish is often sub-standard, rejected by other customers and over-priced. If you receive such a visit, please tell them to go away, and report their visit immediately to the Police using the 101 non-emergency number.

If you see anything suspicious, report it to the Police using 999 if an EMERGENCY and 101 if a Non-Emergency

What's happening about fracking?

Frack Free Ryedale and Friends of the Earth have applied to the High Court for a judicial review of the planning permission granted by North Yorkshire County Council for fracking at the existing KM8 well at Kirby Misperton*. Friends of the Earth and Frack Free Ryedale argued that the council's decision was unlawful because it:

- Failed properly to assess climate change
- Failed to secure long-term financial protection against any environmental damage.

This particular case will be dealt with as a 'rolled up' hearing by the end of October. This means a High Court judge will decide whether to grant permission for the case to go-ahead at the same time as deciding on the arguments. Rolled-up hearings are used in a variety of circumstances, particularly for urgent cases or where challenges are straightforward and won't take long to argue. The court will begin by considering permission for the judicial review and, if that is granted, go straight ahead to the full hearing. The Judicial Review takes place at the Royal Courts of Justice in London on 22nd-23rd November 2016.

Across the UK, there are now over 260 frack free groups including over 30 in Yorkshire alone. Groups form in areas where Petroleum and Exploration Licenses (PEDL) have been granted and interested residents and businesses research what has happened in other countries.

The industry are clear that they need to drill multiple boreholes. This will mean ongoing drilling and construction work for communities living close by. The initial flow of gas from one borehole quickly reduces meaning multiple boreholes are needed. All this affects communities as the industry will use the existing infrastructure including roads and will need to build pipelines to transport the gas to gas processing plants. These will be large construction projects that will continue until the gas runs out, which is a particular concern for a rural, agricultural and tourist area such as Ryedale.

Recently the State of Victoria in Australia imposed an indefinite moratorium against unconventional gas extraction (which includes fracking). One of the key pieces of evidence taken into account was the fact that in other states of Australia, for every 10 jobs created by the gas industry, 18 jobs were lost in agriculture.

The industry say that they can mitigate the ill effects. There is a large body of evidence emerging about air and water quality, the health impacts and the risks of an accident resulting in significant environmental pollution in areas where fracking has taken place. The known risks continue to increase concerns across potentially impacted communities across the whole of the UK.

* The North Yorkshire County Council's Planning Committee voted by seven to four to approve the application to frack, test and produce gas from KM8 well for up to nine years. There were 4,375 objections to the application and 36 letters in support.

August Car Boot Sale raises more funds for the Church Roof Fund

Once again during a Bank Holiday Monday traffic through the village was disrupted as Hovingham Church held its annual Car Boot Sale. Unlike this time last year when it poured with rain and the event was all but a washout, this year the weather was perfect and £1319 (before expenses) was raised towards the church roof restoration fund, as follows:

Stall Rental	£511.00	Café	£543.00
Book Sale	£102.00	Tombola	£162.00

Very many thanks to those who welcome the early bird stall holders (who started arriving before 5am!) and who collected money from stall holders; to those who worked tirelessly in the café; to those who collected books and who manned the bookstall and to Jade who organised and manned her tombola.

Car boot sales have been virtually unaffected by inflation. The first one I was involved in over 30 years ago charged £5 for cars and £7 for traders with vans. This year we still only charged £6 for the smallest sites, but more (in some cases considerably more) for larger sites. Although some stall holders grumbled, the majority paid up willingly! Eddie Lucas

Hovingham nurtures star chef

Our eldest son Jake Jones, 25 years old, who lives in Hovingham and was a pupil at Hovingham School is a chef. He was former Head Chef at the Talbot Hotel in Malton. Jake is now in charge of fine dining at Yorkshire's only 5 star hotel, The Grand in York. The Grand has just won 3 AA rosettes which is a big achievement as only 5% of all restaurants in the UK have 3 rosettes or above. This means only two restaurants in York have 3 AA rosettes (The Grand & The Park Restaurant) and only three in total have achieved this award including the Black Swan at Helmsley. The only other restaurants in this part of the world to have this recognition are The Hare at Scawton that won this year and the Black Swan at Oldstead.

Jake was interested in cooking from a very young age has worked at the Worsley Arms many times and still helps out at the Worsley when needed. The Park Restaurant is run by Adam Jackson, my old Sous Chef who also worked with me at both the Worsley Arms and the Rose and Crown at Sutton on the Forest.

Jake was presented with his award at a ceremony in London on 26th September.

On August 14th the death was announced of David Sumner. He suffered a long illness which saw him at first struggling to walk, then walking with a stick and zimmer frame, then riding through the village on a motorised wheel chair before being house bound and eventually confined to his bed.

Newcomers to the village are probably unaware of the active part he played in village life in the past. Besides being a magistrate, for many years he was chairman of the Parish Council and the Village Hall management committee. Together with Arthur Killaley and Keith Graham he was involved in an initial Village Hall renovation. He was a member of Hovingham Church PCC and almost single handedly ran the Ryedale Internet Magazine which he himself founded. Always ready to enter into discussion he was often argumentative and controversial.

Our thoughts go out to Enid and his family. He will be sorely missed.

Hovingham Social Committee - Finale Summer Buffet

On Monday, 1st August, 2016, about 50 of us met in the village hall to celebrate the great work undertaken for many years by the Hovingham Social Committee, and its ending. The key person present from the committee, and the mainstay, was Jean Ellis. Many will remember that Jean, with her family and others – some no longer with us - used to help to organise the autumn car boot sale and to run the tombola and a raffle. The money raised was used to pay for the annual Xmas lunches for pensioners, and for a summer outing. All now sadly missed.

Teresa Ellis and other members of Jean's family organised a delicious lunch in the village hall, including the cutting of the celebratory cake. Christine Horne thanked Jean, her family and others from the social committee over the years who had contributed so much to the social life of the community of Hovingham. All sadly missed.

The project to revive the memory of Hovingham residents who have died and have served is hoped to be completed in time for this November's Remembrance Day Service. The names on the War Memorial have eroded over nearly 100 years but the Hovingham Branch of the Royal British Legion and the Ryedale Family History Group felt that more should be done to recognise their service, to see them as real neighbours and to help us today to realise what it must have been like then - both for them and for those left at home. Thanks to such a swift and generous response by our community, the £1,700 needed was raised in just a few months.

A new slab, laid flat in the gravel before the memorial, records not just the names of those killed but their ages and when and where they died. The memorial has been cleaned and there is a story to tell..... When an eagle-eyed Sylvia Moss saw volunteers approach the war memorial with buckets and ladders, she suggested we emulate TV's Hairy Builders whose eco-friendly technique for cleaning ancient monuments was a rub-down with dilute vinegar. With some of Sylvia's vinegar, a lot of Pauline Fisher's water supply and Mark Wilson's pressure jet, the volunteers got the memorial shining white in less than three hours. They later learned that Strensall's War Memorial had just been cleaned professionally for £2,000. Hovingham Hairy Highspeed Cleaners are now open for business across Ryedale.

Following cleaning the surrounding gravel and turf will shortly be tidied up by volunteers.

The RFHG Memorial book has been very substantially revised and extended, including much more about residents who served as well as those who fell with photographs of many. Thanks to the work of the late and sadly missed David Sumner, it also tells the story of how war affected those left behind, filling huge gaps in the workforce and worrying desperately for their loved ones. Also included is the dedication, originally engraved on the memorial: now completely eroded, traces were discovered during cleaning.

The new edition will be available from November 10 at the regular RFHG Thursday workshops. A Memorial Copy will be held in the church with laminated pages in a special ring-binder which can be updated and added to in the future.

William Goodwill Sgt., 1939 - 1945 44 Sqn., Royal Air Force

Born: 28th November 1917 Died: 11th September 1940

Burial: Becklingen War Cemetery, Germany, grave reference 23.A.3

William Goodwill was born in Hovingham, the only son of John and Mary Agnes Goodwill. John Goodwill was a butcher and smallholder: the family lived in the High Street at the house now called Lumley House. He went to the village school and on, with a scholarship, to Malton Grammar School.

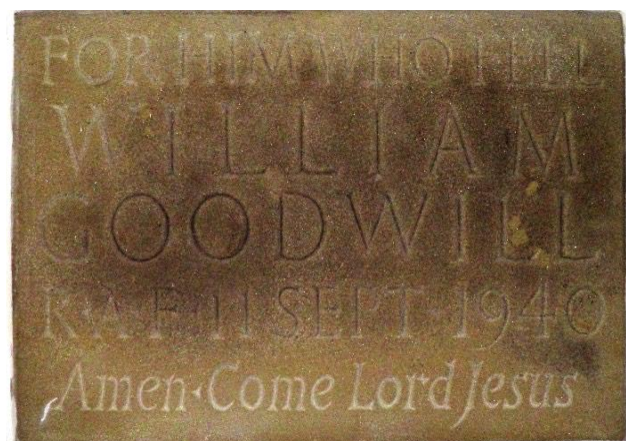

After leaving school he worked for a time for his father, but on 13th September 1939 he joined the RAF, being trained as a wireless operator. After aircrew training with 52 Squadron in summer 1939 he had brief periods with two operational bomber squadrons and was finally posted to 44 Squadron at RAF Waddington in January 1940. He was promoted to Sergeant on 27 May 1940.

The squadron was equipped with Handley-Page Hampden medium bombers and in the summer of 1940 was primarily engaged in mine-laying and bombing coastal targets: he took part in 15 raids between late July and 11th September.

On 11th September 1940, during a raid on Bremerhaven and Hamburg, his aircraft was shot down and crashed into the sea.

The bodies of two of the crew (Pilot Officer D.E. Stewart and Sergeant J.G. Hobson) were recovered from the sea: Sergeant Goodwill's body was washed ashore on 16th September. The body of the fourth member of the crew, Sergeant D.A. Joyce, was lost at sea. All three were buried locally, but the bodies were later transferred by the Commonwealth War Graves Commission to the Becklingen War Cemetery on the edge of the Lueneburg Heath in Germany.

There is a stone tablet in his memory in Hovingham church, at the south side of the chancel arch:

To quote the line from the harvest hymn goes "All is safely gathered in". I should perhaps add a caveat that all is gathered in for me but the potato harvest is just starting for some people.

For me the first crop to be harvested were the oats on 7th August. Oats are notorious for being ripe in the grain whilst the straw is still very sappy and green which can make harvesting more difficult. To help with this I sprayed them with glyphosate (Roundup) just before they were ripe to help kill the straw. All the 55 acres of oats were cut over 3 days and the grain was dry enough just to tip in the shed without any need to be put over the drier. They yielded quite well and the straw has been baled and sold.

Next to be cut was the wheat (100 acres) which took about 2 weeks due to some spells of rain. We had 68 mm in August with most of that in the last two weeks. The yield did not come near to the highs of last year but was overall OK. Despite the rain, the moisture content of the wheat wasn't too bad as it dried out in the field quite well but had to be put through the drier to bring it down to below 15%. Like the oats, the straw has been sold.

I suppose I should mention the beans I but would rather forget about them! They were really quite appalling due to the wet winter. Who can forget the 3 inches of rain we got on Christmas Day and Boxing Day? This left my low lying fields with more standing water than I have ever seen and it was there for weeks. This killed the plants off and even where water hadn't stood, the saturated soil affected the plants badly.

On the whole harvest has gone quite smoothly. The combine has behaved most of the time with only a few minor problems – the alternator stopped working, a puncture, a jammed elevator due to a piece of the knife going into it and a hole that appeared in the auger taking grain to the tank. The hole was mended with some gaffer tape and some acrobatics to reach it! One advantage of driving the combine (there has to be one!) is that you get to look down and see the crop over the whole field. This gives a good indication if any areas look sick or maybe require a close look once the crop has been cleared. In the case of the beans it is a severe disadvantage driving the combine and you wish you could be somewhere else!! James is not able to drive a tractor on the road yet but has been a great help in the field with a tractor and trailer. I have had the use of a 14 tonne trailer which has meant that we could get quite a bit cut before I had to stop and take the load home. One tradition that we have had longer than I can remember is harvest tea in the field. It is always a welcome sight when Clare comes into the field in the pickup with a pot of tea and sandwiches.

Time doesn't stand still for long and we are now in the process of preparing and drilling the fields for next harvest. An important job is to get the areas where the water stood back into good condition. I have gone over them with a subsoiler which has two legs that go into the ground below the depth of a plough and lift and crack the ground. The fields are now being ploughed drilled with wheat and oats.

Hopefully the next month will have kind weather to allow us progress quickly.

This years Ryedale Festival was terrific: great music and outstanding performances all really well supported, and held across a range of beautiful venues in Ryedale. A number of threads were followed through, starting with 'time'. Beethoven's late quartets (1826-27) inspired T. S Eliot to write The Four Quartets (1936-1942). Burnt Norton, East Coker, Little Gidding and The Dry Salvages are all on different aspects of time: "In my beginning is my end". Four of the late quartets were beautifully played by the Heath Quartet, with Jeremy Irons (who we all know from Brideshead Revisited) reading the poems – one, appropriately played and read, at Castle Howard!. Fantastic.

Another legacy to be celebrated was the 400th anniversary of the death of Shakespeare. At St Peters Church in Norton 'A Shakespearian Serenade' included Purcell's Suite from The Fairy Queen, Mendelssohn's Midsummer Nights Dream and Vaughan Williams Serenade to Music where words are taken from The Merchant of Venice.

Composer in residence, Sir James Macmillan, presented four world premiers influenced by his Scottish heritage and Catholic Faith. I especially enjoyed Cumnock Fair with its rollicking references to Scottish melodies and dances from his home town of Cumnock in Ayrshire.

Other concerts included Late- night Candlelit Bach, young artists singing Alcina at Ampleforth and last, but by no means least, the Royal Sinfonia playing here, in the Riding School, to a large and very happy audience. Well done the artistic director, Christopher Glynn.

It's taken 3 years and it's now complete. Yes, it's hard to believe that the refurbishment of Hovingham Stores has taken 36 months. Owners Mark & Rosie Blades could have completed it within 6 months if they'd closed the shop. Mark & Rosie recognized the importance of the shop to the village, which is a lifeline for some, and decided to keep it open throughout the extensive renovations.

Regulars have witnessed all stages of this evolving building and renovation project with changes happening every week resulting in the shop doubling in size. The shop feels much lighter and airier and alongside groceries, sells fresh vegetables and fruit, baking essentials, locally sourced food including black pudding, pasta and Ampleforth Cider, frozen and chilled food, hot pies, bean to cup speciality coffee (popular with passing trade), wines, beers, and spirits, cards, newspapers and magazines, own brand confectionery, plants and flowers. It's a bit like Dr Who's tardis – small on the outside, with surprises and space on the inside.

Mark is delighted with the positive response from locals who have seen the amount and variety of stock treble. With the decline in many local services, it's refreshing to have a business on our doorstep that's bucking the trend and has recently extended their opening hours. The shop also provides local jobs for seven staff with familiar, friendly faces behind the till. There is also a new food ordering service where regulars can request specific items.

Reflecting on the experience of this extraordinary journey, Mark said "I would like to take the opportunity to thank our customers for bearing with us through the changes. We very much hope that they continue to visit us in the future and we promise not to keep swapping things around again too much."

SCACKLETON

- Safari Supper - Following a shortage of "chefs" this may result in the event being cancelled.
- Defibrillator - This has now been ordered for £1,540 and power will be funded by BT.

HOVINGHAM

- Action Group - A report was submitted.
- Car Park Resurfacing - A quotation for £26,500 plus VAT has been obtained. Additional quotes will be obtained and alternatives investigated.
- Cemetery Wall Repairs - Wall is still being repaired and continue to be monitored.
- Dog Waste Bin at Hall Farm - Suggested to move to entrance of sewage farm. It was agreed to proceed.
- Gift of Bench for Playground - Mr K. Harrison was thanked for his gift of a bench for the playground. Cllr R. Wainwright will liaise to take it to the site.
- Memorial Project - The Parish Council thanked Mr. R Thompson for his report and they hope the new tablet will be ready for Remembrance Sunday.
- Mini-Recycling Area - The site has recently been found in a poor state. Cllr P. Chapman has agreed to make more signs and remind residents via the Newsletter that it needs to be kept clean. The Malt Shovel will be reminded the site is for domestic and not for business use. The Clerk will investigate the cost of an additional large green bin.
- Speeding in Hovingham - This continues to be of great concern to many residents. Cllr P. Chapman will determine progress on resident operated speed cameras and enforcement in Hovingham. The vehicle activated signs have now "reached the end of their life" and will not be returning.
- Village Hall Constitution - A meeting has been held, with an officer of Rural Action Yorkshire who have funding to support the work. Further meetings are to take place and with final document with go to the Management Committee for consultation.
