QUESTIONS OR COMMENTS FROM MEMBERS OF THE PUBLIC

Presentation from Alice Hayter – Hovingham Estate Manager

GENERAL ActionS (Hovingham & Scackleton)

Ryedale Plan – Consultation on locations for future development
Distribute growth more equally across Ryedale- benefits and disadvantages
They want to make sensitive changes focusing on sense of place, creating economically viable. Inclusive and sustainable community
Put forward to RDC land which is available, not necessarily to be developed
Some of proposed land will be for:
- Parking
- Land behind Worsley Arms Hotel
- Serviced office space at Hovingham Estate
- Expansion of Hovingham Bakery
- Expansion of playground for activities in association with the school
- New allotments for community use

32 residents attended; the following questions were put to Mrs Hayter:

Asked about sustainability- investment in village in future

Asked about character of the village with further development- assurance it will remain as it is

Concerns about the number of properties set to be built- Estate don't know how many yet

Concerns about flooding- measures will be implemented but is a matter for planning application and Environment Agency. A full consultation will assess the flooding risk.

How do they choose which land to develop- based on a Master Plan from 10 year ago. Nothing new about the proposals.

Concerns about Carter Jonas plans which are more severe – they're incorrect.

Will it be phased? Yes but the Council has drawn their own plans which won't necessarily go ahead.

Playground which will bring other people from other villages. This, coupled with extra parking, isn't stopping outsiders coming in.

Prices high in village- due to architecture and uniqueness.

Are restrictive covenant policies still in place- yes and that's why Hovingham is so unique.

Are rights of access still in place? - Yes but it's early days so not looking at such minute detail now

What are the Estate's intentions? Estates are a business and need to sustain heritage but has to be an income. All gets re-invested back into the Estate.

How can Estate be trusted? They will continue ongoing conversation with RDC but they are a force unto their own.

- Platinum Jubilee – Bank holidays on Thursday 2nd June and Friday 3rd June - Scackleton Organisations would like to join forces with Hovingham to coordinate events
